1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

In claim 3, the structure of the second piston rod is not understood in view of the specification (last paragraph of page 8) and drawings. The piston area is not understood in view of the specification and drawings.

3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the second piston rod and the piston area as set forth in claim 3 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 4, and claim 4, line 7, "having piston rods" should be --each having a piston rod--.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Junkers ('865) in view of Berneuil et al.

Junkers ('865) discloses all of the claimed subject matter except for having two pistons in a single cylinder. Berneuil et al discloses having two pistons in a single cylinder. Berneuil et al further discloses a solid piston rod extending through a hollow piston rod. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the pistons/cylinders of Junkers ('865) as two pistons with a solid piston rod extending through a hollow piston rod in a single cylinder to minimize the bulk of the cylinder as taught by Berneuil et al.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

8. Applicant's arguments filed December 30, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3723

Applicant's arguments fail to clarify the lack of clarity of the specification and drawings with respect to the subject matter of claim 3.

In response to applicant's argument that Berneuil is nonanalogous art, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention. See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, Berneuil is reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned since Berneuil solves the problem of minimizing the bulk of a cylinder.

It is noted that Berneuil et al was applied to the rejection of the claims to teach the concept of having two pistons in a single cylinder and a solid piston rod extending through a hollow piston rod, and not for what was disclosed in the primary reference to Junkers.
